

Actuary - Concept

The Actuary program studies the analysis of financial risks related to insurance companies and pension funds. Actuaries are highly qualified specialists, who have perfect knowledge of mathematical and statistical methods, as well as financial theory.

The following are being taught within this program:

1. Methods of general analysis and business administration courses (first three years of study);
2. Courses of Finance and Insurance.

The set of courses that we offer aims to form unique specialists, who can successfully work in Insurance or other sector of financial industry.
